
WHAT HAPPENED TO THE KILLERS OF SAYYIDUNĀ ḤUSAYN raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu?

- Ibn Wā’il or Abū Wā’il – who was present at Karbala – reports, “A man then stood up and said, “Is Ḥusayn amongst you?” When the people replied that he was, the man remarked, “The good news is that you will be ending up in Jahannam!” Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu replied, ‘I have been given the good news of a Merciful Rabb and an intercessor (Rasūlullāh ﷺ) whose intercession is certainly accepted.” “Who are you?” the people asked the man. He informed them that he was Ibn Juwayra or Ibn Juwayza.
- Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu then made du’ā’ saying, “O Allāh! Take him in pieces to Jahannam!” Just then, his animal bolted and when the man fell off, his foot got caught in the stirrup. By Allāh! The animal ran off and there was eventually nothing of the man apart from his leg.”
- Kalbī reports that Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu was drinking water when a man shot an arrow at him, which paralysed his jaw. “May Allāh never quench your thirst!” Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu said. The man then drank so much water that his stomach burst.

- Sufyān reports from his grandmother that there were two men from the Ju'fi tribe who participated in the martyrdom of Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu. The private organ of one of them became so grotesquely large that he had to fold it, while the other would suffer such great thirst that he would finish a large jar of water in a gulp. Sufyān says that he also saw that the son of one of them was insane.
- A'mash narrates that when a man once defecated on the grave of Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu, his entire family was struck with insanity, leprosy, white liver and poverty.

Ḥayāt-us-Ṣaḥābah ﷺ volume 3 pp.920-921

The killers of Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu were the Shia. Some scholars have named Shimr bin Dhil Jaushan and Sinān bin Anas as the killers who carried out the filthy act of killing the blessed and beloved grandson of Rasūlullāh ﷺ. This is how they met their terrible end. Shia scholars like Murtaḍā Muṭṭaharī in Malḥamah Al-Ḥusayniyyah have attested to the fact that it was the Shia that deserted, abandoned, and killed Sayyidunā Ḥusayn raḍiyallāhu ‘anhu.

May Allāh ﷻ save us from the blasphemy of the Shia and from falling for the unity slogans trumpeted by the ignorant and deviant. Āmīn
